NAFTALI HERZ SCHEIN GRAVE IN PÄRNU

The gravestone for Naftali Herz Schein in Pärnu looks very impressive. Perhaps he was the most admired 19th century ancestor? There are many descendants of Naphtali Herz Schein whose secular and/or Hebrew names have some form of, or part, of his name. There is also some evidence in records and anecdotes that some even use a variant at different times or places - a Naftali Herz came in the 1960s to United States to attend his wife Nanny's sister's funeral (Rose Binman) in St. Paul. He also gave a legal deposition and used the name Hertsel Shein. His gravestone (see page 132) in Tallinn used Naftali Gerts (Hebrew, Russian variant of Herz) and Harri [sic].

The name Herz is a kinui (Yiddish equivalent) for Naphtali (Hebrew). It is Yiddish for Stag, chosen to connect with the emblem for the Tribe of Naphtali. Kinui is a legal term. The Rabbis defined two categories of linkage between Hebrew and non-Hebrew names - haMechune (alias), and demitkari ("who was called"). Since this might lead to confusion in specifying exactly who someone was - in written contracts, names must be written as haMechune or demitkari.

Other variants in addition to Herz used by Scheins include: Hirsch, Herz, Hertz, Hertsel, Hersh, Harri, Harry; Russian variants - Gerz, Gertsel, Gerts, Gersh / Girsh (There Is No H in the Russian Alphabet.)

TALLINN JEWISH CEMETERY

Yechiel Mendel (ben Naftali Herz) Schein died July 13, 1929, the 5th day of Tammuz 5689. His wife Rosa (Raiza bas Dovid Kantor) Schein died February 27, 1948, the 17th day of Adar Rishon 5708.

Nanny Schein was Rose Binman's sister. Her husband Harri her cousin.

SCHEINS WHO STUDIED AT TARTU UNIVERSITY

Tartu, the second largest city of Estonia, is 100 miles southeast of Tallinn in the center of Estonia. Home to Estonia's oldest and most renowned University, Tartu is considered the country's intellectual and cultural hub. Tartu University was founded in 1632.

The first Jewish student graduated in 1854. Jewish students were first attracted to the Medical Faculty. It was difficult to find work in Russia for Jews with degrees from any other specialty. Tartu was not far from major Jewish centers outside Estonia. These Jewish students also spoke German, which was the language of instruction. After Estonia gained independence, Tartu University carried out all instruction in the Estonian language. In 1944 the Soviet Union reorganized the University along Soviet lines, while preserving Estonian as the language of instruction. The flow of students from Jewish centers outside Estonia has stopped. Today all the Jewish students are Estonian.

Jewish students were not members of gentile student organizations. So they founded their own society - the Academic Society of Jewish Culture and Literature. Rector Eduard von Val approved their bylaws of December 9, 1883. October 12, 1922, Jewish students decided to organize a new fraternity following all the traditions of German student fraternities, their customs and symbols. Their fraternity was called Limuvia. February 10, 1923, Zionist students founded another student fraternity called Hasmonea. Hasmonea was aligned with the program of the Zionist-Revisionists. This fraternity existed 1923-1940. The Jewish women's student sorority Hatsfira was founded January 30, 1924.

HARRY FEINE (HIRSCH SCHEIN)

Harry Feine was Harry Binman's uncle. See the Schein family tree on pages 125 - 126. I do not know why he changed his name from Schein to Feine. Harry Binman lived for a time both in Minneapolis, Minnesota and in New Hampton, Iowa. New Hampton, Iowa was the home of his uncle Harry aunt Bessie Feine. New Hampton is about 175 miles directly south of Minneapolis.

Tzvia Lea Schein Binman's brother Harry Feine (Hirsch Schein on ship list), age 20 and unmarried, left Hamburg Germany July 14, 1891 on the SS Gellert arriving in New York City on July 27, 1891. His occupation was butcher. He was from Pernau. He may have been born there as well. His destination was Little Rock. As far as I know he never did get to Arkansas. Instead, Harry and Bessie Feine came to New Hampton, Iowa in 1901. Various records suggest that Harry and Bessie were married sometime during 1900 in Philadelphia. I have not searched for their marriage certificate. Harry's passport application stated he had lived about 10 years in Pennsylvania before coming to Iowa.

When Harry Feine came to the United States in 1891 from Pärnu at age 20, he was accompanied by a Moses Binman age 30 also from Pärnu.

MOSES BIENEMANN & HIRSCH SCHEIN ARRIVE TOGETHER ON SS GELLERT

Moses Bienemann (Moses Bienemann) and Hirsch Schein (Harry Feine) were brothers-in-law. Moses was married to Harry Binman's mother Lena Schein. The above ship list extract clearly says that they were butchers. Several of the Harry Binman's sibling's birth records on the Estonian Jewish Museum Archives website state that Harry Binman's father Moshe Binman was a butcher, the occupation written on the ship passenger list entry above.

Why did they want to go to the United States Midwest? Why did only Feine eventually settle in the Midwest, but Moses Binman returned to Estonia? We'll probably never know. It is particularly interesting St. Paul was the stated destination for Harry Binman's father.

Feine said he was going to Little Rock, Arkansas and Binman said he was going to St. Paul, Minnesota!! There is no record of a Moses Binman in the 1900 US Census. Perhaps he just accompanied his brother-in-law during a break between having children (Moses and Tzvia Lea had 11 together) and returned quickly to Pärnu. I wonder what happened. Binman may have come and turned back. Feine went on to Philadelphia, married there, and settled and died in Iowa. In 1908 when he came to the United States, Harry Binman went from Pärnu directly to St. Paul. He also lived in Iowa with his uncle in Iowa off and on until he married Rose Schein in 1922 in Reval. He was drafted into the United States Army in WW1 in Iowa.

Harry Feine was born February 25, 1872 in Estonia. (His gravestone gives his birth date as January 17, 1871.) Harry Feine was naturalized October 19, 1903 in Decorah, Winneshiek County, Iowa. See pages 142 - 143. His wife Bessie Feine was born November 4, 1881 in Germany. Her family arrived in Philadelphia August 25, 1890 from Liverpool on the SS British Princess. She was the daughter of Israel Raphaelson and Emma Gottlieb. Bessie was naturalized in Philadelphia with her father in 1893.

SULLIVAN & SCHOLZ
Attorneys for Bessie Feine

Philadelphia City Directories show that for the first time in 1894 there is an Israel Raphaelson in the shoe business living at 2050 Rush Street. In 1896 Harry Fine [sic], a laborer appears for the first time. He is living at 1403 Dover Street. In 1897 Israel Raphaelson is still the shoes business, but now living at 4328 Faulkrod Street. In 1897 Harry Fine is a presser living at 913 Faulkner Street. In 1900 Harry Fine is a printer living at 207 North 13th Street. Israel Raphaelson is still the shoes business, but now living at 1508 South 8th Street. In the 1900 United States Federal Census (dated June 5, 1900), the Raphaelson family was living at 6 Abbotts Court, Philadelphia. This street no longer exists in 2011. Israel is listed as Isaac and his occupation was shoemaker. His daughter Sarah was a cigar maker. In the 1910 United States Federal Census Israel's occupation was junkman. In the 1910 United States Federal Census Harry and Bessie Feine are already living in New Hampton. His occupation was junkman. Israel Raphaelson was naturalized in 1893 or 1897.

The 1920 and 1930 United States Federal Censuses state Harry Feine's occupation was junk dealer. No children are listed in the 1920 United States Federal Census. However, according to the 1925 Iowa State Census and the 1930 United States Federal Census, there were three young Meyer children (Meriam age 7, Isidore age 5 and Ruth age 3) living with the Feines at that time. Their father was born in Estonia. Perhaps the Feines made their home available to young immigrants' relatives from Estonia or were acting as foster parents. I don't believe they had any children of their own.

According to the 1920 United States Federal Census the Feines were living in New Hampton next to the Jewish David Schatz family. David and Harry were both junk dealers. In 1930, the Feines were living at 243 West Jefferson Street in New Hampton.

Harry Feine died November 4, 1936 intestate (with no will). One year later his estate was probated. His entire estate went to his widow. Also one-year later Bessie wrote her own will. Harry Binman as the executor of Bessie's will. According to Basie Feine's will the couple owned their own home, a two-family tenement, a blacksmith shop and several un-improved lots in New Hampton. Bessie Feine died January 9, 1939. Both Harry and Bessie are buried in New Hampton, Iowa.

In addition to gift a $125 gift to the Jewish Home for the Aged, Bessie gave $100 to the Adas Israel Synagogue in St. Paul. The Jewish Home for the Aged was established in St. Paul in 1908 as a care facility for the elderly poor. It provided room and care for indigent Jewish elders throughout Minnesota. Bessie also made several gifts of $100 to nieces and nephew. Ruth Meyer, age 17 and still living in New Hampton, was also listed as a beneficiary ($100). The major portion of Bessie Feine's estate of about $7,500 went to her brother Charles Raphaelson living in Norristown, Pennsylvania. The 1920 United States Federal Census states Charles' occupation was junk dealer.

Harry and Bessie Feine are buried in the Children of Israel Cemetery New Hampton, Iowa.
